

Research data

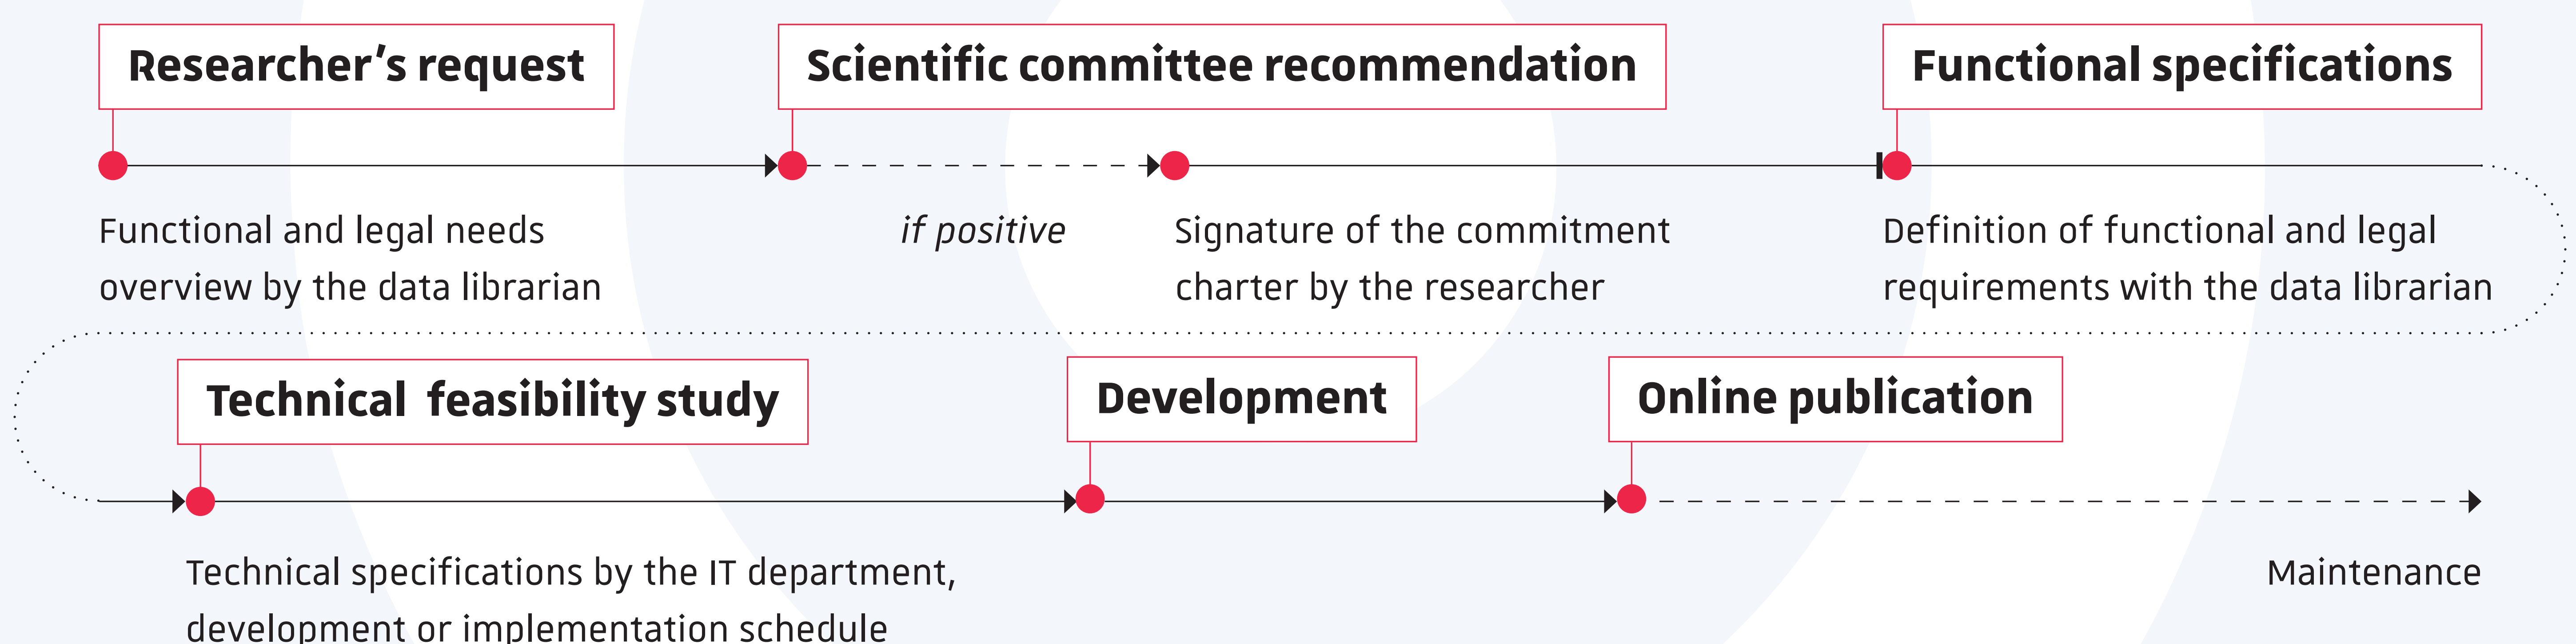

Structure and workflow to support research data management

We are trying to favour the lightness and flexibility of a virtual structure by bringing together experts from several departments of the university (library, IT department, Research office, legal office, DPO) and university's partners. Thus, the team assembled on a project will not necessarily be the same team assisting another researcher. Our goal is to provide the most relevant response to the request.

→ Flowchart

→ Project management timeline

→ Deliverables | Functional and legal needs overview, functional and legal specifications, technical feasibility study, software development schedule, software development or implementation